Eliminates uric acid freely, purifies the blood, and stimulates the functions of the kidneys and liver. In Rheumatism and Gout it gives better results than any other remedy. NATURE PROVIDES FOR SICK WOMEN a more potent remedy in the roots and herbs of the field than was ever produced from drugs.

In the good old-fashioned days of our grandmothers few drugs were used in medicines and Lydia E. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., in her study of roots and herbs and their power over disease discovered and gave to the women of the world a remedy for their peculiar ills more potent and efficacious than any combination of drugs.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Is an honest, tried and true remedy of unquestionable therapeutic value. During its record of more than thirty years, its long list of actual cures of those serious ills peculiar to women, entitles Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to the respect and confidence of every fair minded person and every thinking woman.

When women are troubled with irregular or painful functions, weakness, displacements, ulceration or inflammation, backache, flatulency, general debility, indigestion or nervous prostration, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other remedy in the country has such a record of cures of female ills, and thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it has done for them.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. For twenty-five years she has been advising sick women free of charge. She is the daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham and as her assistant for years before her decease advised under her immediate direction. Address, Lynn, Mass.

LITTLE CAUSE FOR WORRY.

More or Less Glittering Bait Held Out to Cow Punchers.

Over in the Salmon river meadows country, in Idaho, ranged a wild and woolly bunch of long-haired cow punchers, whose knowledge of the world was confined mainly to trips after cattle into surrounding counties. Into this reckless but verdant community there came the smooth-tongued representative of a wild west show, who hired several riders at a high salary to do a hair-raising act, the chief feature being that they should appear to be thrown from their horses and dragged by the foot.

After they had practiced in a corral for a while one of them loosened himself and rising from the dirt, disheveled and dazed, inquired:

"Say, mister, ain't this rather dangerous? We might get killed."

"That's all right," chirped the show's representative cheerfully.

"Your salary will go on just the same."—Lippincott's Magazine.

THOUGHT CHILD WOULD DIE.

Whole Body Covered with Cuban Itch—Cuticura Remedies Cured at Cost of Seventy-Five Cents.

"My little boy, when only an infant of three months, caught the Cuban Itch. Sores broke out from his head to the bottom of his feet. He would itch and claw himself and cry all the time. He could not sleep day or night, and a light dress is all he could wear. I called one of our best doctors to treat him, but he seemed to get worse. He suffered so terribly that my husband said he believed he would have to die. I had almost given up hope when a lady friend told me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I used the Cuticura Ointment and he at once fell into a sleep, and he slept with ease for the first time since two months. After three applications the sores began to dry up, and in just two weeks from the day I commenced to use the Cuticura Remedies my baby was entirely well. The treatment only cost me 75c, and I would have gladly paid $100 if I could not have got it cheaper. I feel safe in saying that the Cuticura Remedies saved his life. He is now a boy of five years. HORTICULTURE

THE APPLE APHIS.

Approved Remedies for Spring and Summer Treatment.

The presence of aphids is indicated by the curled, distorted condition of the more terminal leaves, and if a plant showing these symptoms be closely examined small oval or pear shaped soft bodied aphides, greenish or pink in color, according to species, will be found on the undersurface of the leaves along the tender stem or elsewhere, often practically covering these parts. See cut.

Aphis Mali. (Terminal shoot of apple infested with the apple aphid.—Aphis mali—showing condition of leaves.)

A. L. Quaintance further says in regard to spring and summer treatment that effective work in controlling these insects may be done in the spring just after they have hatched from eggs and have collected on the expanding foliage. Trees seen to be badly infested at this time should be thoroughly sprayed, taking pains to wet as completely as possible all parts of the leaves, twigs and branches. However thoroughly the work may be done, some of the lice are almost sure to escape destruction owing to the difficulty of forcing the spray between the unfolding leaves, more or less covered with hairs, where some of the insects will have penetrated. A subsequent treatment in the course of a week should be made, especially if the first application is seen to have been unsatisfactory.

After the foliage is well out and more or less distorted from the presence of the aphides effective spraying is quite difficult, since many of the insects on the lower surface of the curled leaves will not be hit by the spray. Repeated applications must be made, therefore, as necessary to keep the insects under control. It will often be found practicable to bend over and immerse the terminal shoots of badly infested young trees in a bucket of this spray solution, and this treatment will be very effective. For spraying after the trees are in foliage a strong tobacco decoction, 15 or 20 per cent, kerosene emulsion, 15 per cent, crude petroleum emulsion or white oil soap at the rate of one pound for each four gallons of water are approved remedies. Since aphides secure their food by sucking up sap from within the plant, none of the arsenical poisons would be effective.

AN ORCHARDIST'S OPINION.

The Grass Method of Orcharding Good Under Some Conditions.

A good deal of discussion is going on about the grass mulch method of orcharding. I believe it is all right under some conditions, but though it is successfully practiced on our farm, I do not like to advocate the method in public. Most farmers have too much grass already with their trees for their own or their owner's good, writes George C. Hill, in Farmers' Review. The orchard is mowed or pastured; the trees are sod-bound, stunted, starved, drought sick, unproductive. I am acquainted with one productive orchard in Wisconsin that is in grass. It contains about 100 trees, many of them 30 years old. About one-third of the number are Fameuse. The orchard was in cultivation 12 or 15 years. The trees were headed low and cultivation became difficult. Then it was seeded to clover. After some years June grass took possession of the ground. The grass mulch method would cut the grass and pile it under the trees to keep the soil moist and make fertility. Our practice is to take up one crop of grass and top dress liberally with stable manure. No pasturing is allowed. The second crop of grass makes a cover crop for winter protection. Any small trees liable to be girdled are banked with earth or coal ashes. The low habit of the trees makes it too shady under the branches for grass to flourish. The tough sod is not found there. Fruit that falls to the ground meets a clean, comfortable reception. The trees have been longer lived than those planted on neighboring farms with different treatment. No trees were lost or apparently injured during the destructive winter of 1898 and 1899.

Fill Up the Gullies.

We reclaimed a field that had gullies in it big enough to hide a house, by filling with cedar brush, then hauling rocks, stumps and small logs and throwing on top of the brush, writes a correspondent of Farm and Home. Other gullies that were just starting were stopped by setting in slabs crosswise and standing to position. A rock cliff was fenced off and set to cherry tree sprouts which are growing nicely. A sink-hole was edged with plum sprouts which are more useful than the usual anasafra.

TREATMENT INDUCED A CHILL.

Remedy Given in Hospital Tent Must Have Been Pleasant.

The captain tells a story which runs something like this: In camp one morning the first sergeant reported that Private B— had a chill. "Is it a serious one?" asked the captain. "Well, sir, I don't know just how serious it is, but it's a big one, for it seems to be all over him, and he weighs 200 pounds. On seeing him the captain found him looking rather blue, and instructed the first sergeant to send him to the surgeon-in-charge of a corporal.

Soon after breakfast the captain saw the corporal and asked him how the man was getting on. "Oh, he's all right now," was the reply. "I took him up to the hospital tent, and when I saw what kind of medicine the doctor gave him I had a chill too."—Army and Navy Life.

NERVOUS COLLAPSE

IS OFTEN PREVENTED BY DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

Taken When the First Warning Symptoms Are Noticed Much Needless Suffering May Be Saved.

Are you troubled with pallor, loss of spirits, waves of heat passing over the body, shortness of breath after slight exertion, a peculiar skipping of the heart beat, poor digestion, cold extremities or a feeling of weight and fullness? Do not make the mistake of thinking that these are diseases in themselves and be satisfied with temporary relief.

This is the way the nerves give warning that they are breaking down. It simply means that the blood has become impure and cannot carry enough nourishment to the nerves to keep them healthy and able to do their work.

Rest, alone, will sometimes give the needed relief. The tonic treatment by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, however, prevents the final breakdown of the nerves and the more serious diseases which follow, because the pills act directly upon the impure blood, making it rich, red and pure.

Mrs. E. C. Bradley, of 103 Parsells avenue, Rochester, N. Y., says:

"I was never very healthy and some years ago, when in a run-down condition, I suffered a nervous shock, caused by a misfortune to a friend. It was so great that I was unfit for work."

"I was just weak, low-spirited and nervous. I could hardly walk and could not bear the least noise. My appetite was poor and I did not care for food. I couldn't sleep well and once for two weeks got scarcely an hour's sleep. I had severe headaches most of the time and pains in the back and spine."

"I was treated by two doctors, being under the care of one of them for six months. I got no relief and then decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I soon began to feel better and the improvement was general. My appetite became hearty and my sleep better. The headaches all left and also the pains in my back. A few more boxes entirely cured me and I was able to go back to work. I felt splendid and as though I had never been sick."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are invaluable in such diseases as rheumatism, after-effects of the grip and fever, neuritis, St. Vitus' dance and even partial paralysis and locomotor ataxia.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box, six boxes, for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Her Disease.

One day Marjorie, aged three, wanted to play doctor with her sister, Marjorie was the "doctor," and she came to make a call on her sister, who made believe she was sick. "Do you want to know what you've got?" the doctor asked, after a critical examination. "Yes," faintly assented the sick woman. "You've got dirty hands," said Marjorie, dropping in disgust the wrist on which she had been feeling the pulse.
